BUFFALO, NY - Buffalo Arts Studio is excited to share its forthcoming roster of educational programming for Winter 2019. Our award-winning educational resources include art classes which span the range of artistic media, including acrylic painting, pottery on the wheel, and Life Drawing.

Additionally, Buffalo Arts Studio has an exciting lineup of classes and topics for our Jump Start students. Jump Start affords opportunities to economically disadvantaged youths and populations in the form of free, or reduced admission, workshops with locally renowned artists, and the opportunity to receive feedback on portfolios and artwork for those students who might be interested in pursuing the arts past primary education.

Buffalo Arts Studio continues to be a space for arts access, and inclusive learning experiences for children, adults, and arts professionals alike. We sincerely hope you will join us as we endeavor upon our new term of educational offerings. For class information, deadlines, and more information on our Jump Start program, please contact Jayne Hughes, Education Director at the information provided above.
